WORE THE COLORS IN COURT

Coiner University Boys and Girls Atten1 the Grave Robbers' Trial.

D. FENSE PRESENTS A STRONG CASE

Testimony of Trustee Byer Contradicted by Defendant Burford-Theory of the Prosecution as to the Origin of the Erickson Letters.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 3 .- (Special Telegram.)-The case of the state against the Cotner university students, professors and janitors is being vigorously contested. It is not a trial for the crime of grave robbing, but an examination to ascertain if there is sufficient evidence to warrant holding defendants to the district court. The defendants, visiting students and their lady friends in court this morning all wore the colors of the university, red and orange. Previous to the opening of court, which did not occur until 11:20, an excursion was made to the receiving vault in Wyuka cemetery. This was a move on the part of the defense for the purpose of rebutting evidence relating to identification of Otto Albert's remains. The case of the defense hangs upon this point. In the party were Attorney Mack, Drs. Graham, Bentley and Richards, Bondsman Oliver and Detective Malone and several reporters. The cadaver was brought from the vault into the open air and closely examined by the medical gentlemen. Here it was claimed by Bondsman Oliver that two marks testified as going to identify the corpse, a stiff joint and a scar on the right hand, were lacking.

Defendant J. A. Burford was the first witness this morning. He testified that he and Mehan were student janitors of the He denied having said at the time the body was carried down stairs that it was heavier than when it was carried up. This contradicts the testimony of Trustee byer. Witness admitted that, in company Byer. Witness admitted that, in company with Mehan, he tried to inject an embalm ing fluid into the subject, but the attempt was a failure. He produced two packages of glass, of different colors, accounting for them by the breaking of the Diana picture in

THOSE ERICKSON LETTERS. contract between Witness Mehan and the university was placed in evidence, show-ing that both he and Buford had engaged with the faculty as janitors of the building. Collins, for the prosecution, wanted Buford to submit a specimen of his handwriting for comparison with the Erickson letters, but the court held that the signature of the witness to the contract was sufficient. It is the theory of the prosecution that the letters purporting to have been written from Chi-cago by M. B. Erickson offering to sell the body were written in Lincoln and by a party connected with Cotner university. Student-Janitor Mehan was next on the carpet. His testimony was closely corroborative of Buford's. Witness contradicted the evidence of Chief Cooper, who had testified that witness had told him Buford had the key to the dissecting room on Thursday night. Had never said that he helped to carry up the "stiff," but admitted that Detective Malone had asked him if the body was not heavier when carrying it down than when he had assisted in carrying it up. This, he said, was spoken in the manner of a joke at the time. Collins wanted a specimen of Mehan's penmanship, but the court tuled against him. As a personal accommodation, however, to Collins, witness wrote the name M. B. Erickson on a slip of paper.

At this point court took a recess until 2

p. m. Dr. Bently was called to the stand in the afternoon. He said that he had visited Wy-uka cemetery this morning and found a scar on the left shin and one between the fore finger and thumb on the right hand of the cadaver now in the receiving vault. Wit-self and the parties who now sack to prosecadaver now in the receiving vault. Witness was a lecturer at Cotner university, and treasurer. Had received $40 from the discussion and Lester Price, two substantial citisecting class on November 21. Didn't know Basin and Les Erickson. It was evident that Dr. Bently was a better witness for the prosecution than Bondsman Oliver of Bethany said that he had examined the "stiff" on the night of the arrest and found no scar on the hand. There was a scar on the left shin and the teeth were in a decayed condition. The forefinger of the right hand was bent, but not stiff. Had seen the cadaver again this morning and found the same marks. Ernest McAdam, a student at Cotner, testified concerning the glass found in the dissect-ing room. He said it came from a broken picture of the dean. Could not recognize the handwriting of Erickson.

The rest of the testimony was in the nature Oliver, Drs. Edwards, Graham and Farnham, Detective Malone and Reporter Mason testi-fied to the presence of a scar on the back of the right hand. Oliver had testified that there was no such scar. But one more witness will be offered by the prosecution tomorning, when the case will argued by counsel.

MAYOR WEIR'S PET SCHEME. Whatever other lessons Mayor Weir may have learned from the recent election, he of the people any intimation that his policy regarding the suppression of the social evil is not a popular one. It appears that this pet policy of the mayor has not made any considerable amount of noise in the municipal rattlebox, and some of the policemen had begun to be in danger of forgetting the mayor's famous pet orders, and therefore it was that when the night force lined up Saturday evening Mayor Weir was present to refresh a little the official memory. He begun by assuring the boys that his orders regarding the social evil had never been revoked and are presumed to be in full force and effect. He had heard a number of things, however, in relation to the enforcement of the rules which had surprised him a great deal. In fact he had been led to be-lieve that the orders were not being enforced with the rigor and integrity he de-sired. He was apprised of the fact that there were quite a number of disreputable women plying their trade about the city, and he was determined to have them run out of town. If the present police force was unable to do this work he assured them that he would try and get men who will. The result of the mayor's little visit to headquarters was marvelous, and manifest itself before morning, in the arrest of no less than four couples who were found violating the pet' orders of the mayor. All of the people ar-rested were of the lowest character, but the arrests are accepted as a warning by the better class of sinners. JUDGE HOLCOMB CANED.

At 2 o'clock p. m. today, at room 92, Lindell hotel, Governor-elect Silas A. Hol-comb was presented with a beautiful goldheaded cane. This is the same cane won by Judge Holcomb in the week's voting contest at the Cathedral bazar, prior to the election of November 6. The contest was between Majors and Holcomb, and although officially sanctioned by neither, was carried on with considerable spirit on each side. Judge presentation speech was made by Mr. J. J. Butler of this city. In a felicitous address of acceptance Judge Holcomb said that he fully realized that this gift came from no particular class, but that he should receive it as a testimonial expression from the peo-ple at large, regardless of creed or party. ple at large, regardless of creed in his future course as governor of Ne-braska he hoped to carry out this idea of the totality of the people as distinguished from individualism. He should endeavor to from individualism. He should endeavor to always stand for the people in the aggregate as against classes in particular. LINCOLN BREVITIES.

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Dec. 3 .- (Special Telegram.)-The Louisville bridge case, lately passed upon by the supreme court in favor of the people of Louisville and against Cass county, refuses to down. Suit was originally brought to compel the county to pay for the repairs on the bridge which spans the Platte river at Louisville. District Judge Chap-man issued a writ of mandamus requiring the county commissioners to repair the bridge. The commissioners took an appeal and the supreme court in passing on the matter affirmed the decision of the lower court, but left unsettled the question as to whether the county was liable for the repairs on all the bridge. This left the case really un-settled, as it gave the commissioners a sort of loophole, on the ground that Sarpy county was responsible for one-half of the repairs. With the north half unrepaired the bridge would be utterly worthless for travel and the Louisville people, through their attorneys, have now taken steps to have the matter ap-pealed and the question of liability between the two counties passed upon in full.

Attempt to Change Salaries of Principals Finally Reposes on the Table-Condolatory Resolutions on the Death of Superintendent's Daughter.

The Board of Education last evening elected Clinton N. Powell its attorney for the ensuing year, vice James B. Meikle, who has sell for $1.39, served as the legal advisor of the board for the past two years. Mr. Powell immediately resigned as member and as president of the board. His resignation was accepted, but no effort was made to select a new president for the few remaining weeks of the year.

The election of an attorney was not accomplished without some little rivalry. There were but two candidates, Mr. Powell and Mr. Melkle. When the board took up the matter of electing an attorney Mr. Powell asked to be excused from voting and called Mr. Thomas to the chair. The informal ballot stood 6 to 5 in favor of Mr. Powell. Six in formal ballots were taken in quick succession with a change of but one vote, Mr. Powell Frank B. Beal, a young man from Cass county, was lodged in the county jail today upon a warrant charging him with disposing of a horse and buggy upon which H. G. Beardsley of Weeping Water held a mortgage. The complaint is made by Louis Poska of this city, to whom Beal is said to have sold the mortgaged outfit.

At the regular meeting of the Union Veteran Republican league of Nebraska tonlight resolutions were passed endorsing the candidacy of Hon. Church Howe for United States then lacking a single vote. Adopting the recommendation of the com mittee on salaries, the board made quite a number of changes in the salaries now being paid to the principals of several of the schools. The salaries changed were as follows: Pacific school, reduced from $130 to Robertson, charged with embezzlement in $110; Dodge school, raised from $100 to $110; the sum of $15,000 in connection with the Windsor school, raised from $100 to $105; Franklin school, raised from $90 to $95. After the recommendation had been adopted Mr. Rhodes changed his vote from yea to nay, thus rejecting the report. 'There is no evidence against Brien,' says Mr. Baidwin. "A trifling circumstance has been made to work against my trainer, and I propose to stand by him. There are other tracks in the United States besides San Francisco. In my opinion all the in and out running of Rey el Santa Anita was due to Duff. The young man grew up with the stable, and was doubtless disappointed that he was not promoted to head trainer when I made a change. I have discharged Duff, but I propose to retain Brien."
